

Flexible learning with an

External Diploma

Learn at your own pace with the new flexible delivery options available from Australian Agricultural College Corporation.

The Australian Agricultural College Corporation (AACC) is committed to delivering flexible courses to allow you to progress at a comfortable pace to meet your goals. We recognise that as an adult learner you may have particular needs and considerations. By enrolling in a Diploma course, students will receive top quality education from a nationally recognised institution.

Some of the benefits include:

- Ability to enrol at any time of the year
- Select self-paced home study packages
- Complete units in any order
- Base assignments on your own rural enterprise or interest areas
- Only pay for the units you are studying, no 'up front' fees for the whole course
- Apply for Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) and / or Credit Transfer (CT) if recognised
- Regular contact with and ongoing support from professional teaching staff
- End of year progress reports provided to each student

Each Diploma offers study units and materials from a mix of management skill areas. These include strategic planning, marketing, physical resources, production, financial and business administration. This reflects the Australian Agricultural College Corporation's commitment to helping farmers increase and update their skills towards becoming better managers.

Three Diplomas are currently offered:

- Agriculture
- Agriculture (Beef Production)
- Rural Business Management

The Diploma qualification now also provides a stepping-stone for those who want to gain entry to University. Now there are articulation pathways into Degree courses including Science, Environmental Science and Commerce.

To find out more Freecall 1800 888 710, email enquiries@aacc.edu.au
or visit www.aacc.edu.au